

Anzac Youth Award

Grace Brebner

Over the past year Grace has written four songs about World War I and the impact it has at a human level. These songs have been performed at many locations and have encouraged other students to write and perform music.

Grace has volunteered several hundred hours composing, rehearsing and performing her songs to raise awareness of World War I and the ANZACs. As a result she has been asked to be a Youth Peace Ambassador for The Peace Foundation NZ.

“Every time her music is performed, Grace receives requests to perform her music for another organisation. Grace has performed the music in many arenas bringing a focus to WWI.”
