

Youth with Disability Award

Muskan Devta

At 14 years old, Muskan is already a published author, radio host and international columnist while living with partial hemiplegia. She donated the proceeds of her autobiography 'I Dream' to Starship Hospital - $500 was raised through sales.

Muskan has aspirations of building a school in her homeland of India for young women.

“Muskan has reached thousands of people through her TED talk on borrowing courage and is involved in many community fundraising events. Her Book 'I Dream' proves a great read and is a support to teenagers living with disability.”
