The Plastic Bottle Kayak

The Plastic Bottle Kayak team have done amazing work raising awareness throughout New Zealand (and around the world) about the need for sustainability by juxtaposing the prevalence of waste with the beautiful environments that we value. The awe-inspiring expeditions show off some of the most beautiful parts of Aotearoa's environment in kayaks made from plastic bottles which has generated a large amount of media interest.

“The biggest area of impact from the project is with young Kiwis and schools - we have engaged with over 2,500 young people around the country via our unique educational programme.”
